

SCHOLARSHIPS

Do You Want to Play Soccer in COLLEGE?

The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) is the governing body of College Sports. The first step toward an Athletic Scholarship is registering with the NCAA Eligibility Center. It is suggested that you register during your Junior year of High School.

Academic Standards

To be successful in college, students need to be prepared for college coursework. In Division I and II, the NCAA sets academic initial-eligibility standards that consider GPA, standardized test scores, core courses taken in high school, and the grades earned in those core courses. Division III schools hold student-athletes to the same overall standards for the institution they're enrolling in. All student-athletes also must meet the unique acceptance requirements of the college or university they plan to attend (which may exceed NCAA standards).

To register with the NCAA Eligibility Center, go to ncaa.org.
